

UNIVERSITY WEATHER NOTIFICATION/PAYROLL PROCEDURES

Below are three broad definitions of inclement weather related actions for the campus to be familiar with. In all three actions the President will make the decision on the appropriate action to take, if any. When inclement weather is present in the region, all faculty are expected to work with students in regards to class attendance and assignments. Supervisors are also expected to work with staff within existing policies and the procedures described in the actions below.

- I. University Weather Advisory: Rather than deciding to close the university or to cancel classes, the President may authorize the issuance of University Weather Advisory. This will be a safety advisory only and will not entail the cancellation of classes or closure of the campus.
- Employees currently at work should continue to work at straight time unless standard overtime is worked. If an employee feels they should leave work early due to inclement weather, they should notify their supervisor. An employee leaving work should report all time for their remaining shift as vacation time. If vacation time is not available, the time should be reported as excused without pay.
 - Employees scheduled for shifts starting subsequent to the University Weather Advisory should report to work as usual. If an employee feels they cannot report to work early due to inclement weather, they should notify their supervisor. The employee should report all time for their shift as vacation time. If vacation time is not available, the time should be reported as excused without pay.
- II. University Weather Classes Delayed or Cancelled: The President may authorize the delayed starting time or the cancellation of classes. This scenario does not include the closure of the campus. The campus will remain open and all personnel are expected to report to work.

Situations could occur when the campus will remain open, but only essential personnel will be expected to report to work per supervisor's instructions. This will be clear in the communication and when this occurs, employee time should be reported as described in section III. below.

- Classes
 - I. Classes will not be pushed back or rescheduled. Classes will resume at the next scheduled class time.
 - II. If the main campus in Murray cancels classes, classes at all regional locations will be cancelled also.
 - III. If the main campus in Murray does NOT cancel classes, classes at the regional sites will follow the action announced by the community college in the respective communities.

- III. University Campus Closure: The President may authorize the closure of campus. A closure time will be declared. All events will be cancelled and facilities, with the exception of residence halls and the Winslow Cafeteria, will be closed.

- Employees that have not yet reported to work at the time of closure will receive straight time pay for their regular scheduled shift that falls within the closure period. Employees not scheduled to work on the day, on vacation, or are on leave on the day of closure will not receive closure pay.
- Employees considered essential personnel should remain on the job or report to work per supervisor's instructions.
 - I. Non-Exempt emergency employees will receive pay according to MSU Personnel Policy III D. 6. Overtime and Exceptional Compensation.
 - II. Exempt personnel are paid as usual and if required to report to work, no added "comp" time should be utilized.

When a decision is made regarding any of the above actions, information will be communicated through administrative channels to employees in the following manner:

1. University and community notification procedures will be facilitated by the University Communications Office.

University Weather Advisory communication will be released via the following:

- I. All user email

Once items I –IV above are complete, Public Safety will issue a text message to all users.
